STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE, FITCHBURG, MASS.

Monday, November 5, 1945

DR. WILLIAM J. SANDERS NEW F. T. C. HEAD

HIGH SCHOOL COURSE FOR RETURNING VETERANS

The State Legislature has appropriated $43,000 for the education of returning veterans who have not finished high school. They have set up special courses to meet the requirements of college.

Fitchburg Teachers College is one of the nine regional centers for the education of veterans in this State. Courses are of a progressive nature, prepared by the University Extension Service. Instructors help prepare lessons and correct papers and exams. The first meeting was held at the College on Tuesday night October 16. Classes will be held on Tuesday

FRESHMAN RECEPTION WELL ATTENDED

The annual Freshman Reception was held in the College Library on Tuesday, October 9th, at three o'clock. The Freshmen were ushered in by the Upper Classmen, who introduced them to Doctor Sanders and to the members of the Faculty. After refreshments were served, entertainment, under the direction of Miss Curry, concluded the social. Solos were rendered by Mary Louise Sullivan, Peggy Ryan, Rose Mary Crowell, Jane Sevard, Louise Jabore, and Thomas Carney.

This program offered a splendid opportunity for Freshmen, Upper Classmen and Faculty members to become acquainted.

REVISION OF CURRICULUM PROPOSED BY PRESIDENT

"The project for the immediate future is revision of the college curriculum", Dr. William J. Sanders, recently appointed president of Fitchburg State Teachers College, stated in an interview.

Dr. Sanders took up his duties in Fitchburg on August 15 when he returned from Ann Arbor, Mich., where he was visiting the professor of education at the University of Michigan, during the summer. He is a native of New Haven, Conn. and was educated in the schools there. He received his AB at Yale in 1928 and his doctorate at the same college in 1935. He taught in the Connecticut public schools until 1932 when he was appointed to the education department at DePaul University in Chicago.

In 1941, he returned to New Haven where he became director of extension and was responsible for the in-service training of teachers in southwest Connecticut. He also lectured in educational philosophy in the graduate department at Yale. In 1943 he was granted a leave of absence to serve as acting personnel director of the National War Labor Board in Washington, D. C.

He holds the Phi Beta Kappa key and is a member of many educational societies. He has contributed to leading professional journals and has an article in the current year book of the John Dewey Society.

"WELCOME G. I.'s"

F. T. C. welcomes you, G. I.'s. We want you to feel that our college is yours. Because of the various training and experiences that you've had, we know that you can contribute greatly to the life of this college.

As you probably have noticed, our faculty is not a stagnant body. It does not belong to the "Lost Generation" of educators who have not changed or grown since Pearl Harbor. Instead, our faculty has seen the changes in the world and accelerated with the G. I.

If you have any special talent or hobby, perhaps you may find enjoyment in one of our several clubs.

Yes, G. I.'s, we welcome you and hope that your stay here will be both happy and profitable.

The Ash Tray

Hi ya, Gals and Guys!! Here we are with a few rare tidbits we've dug up which have proved rather interesting. Hope you agree!

A FRESHMAN SPEAKS:

Miller Hall, Oct. 12, 1945

Dear Mom:

I've been away from Catnip Falls for a month now and to tell the truth, it doesn't seem like more than ten years.

I'm really used to college life now. My room, a discarded closet in which Edna couldn't fit her cleaning equipment, is small but comfortable. For awhile respiration was a problem but my roommate and I have worked out a plan of alternate breathing and now we get all the oxygen we need.

There are screens on all the windows to keep the bugs out and me in. Each night when we come in, we sign a register, just like a hotel. They even have a night clerk on duty to see that we do.

Eleven o'clock has a strange effect on Miller Hall. Every Saturday night we rush to catch the last bus so that we can be locked in the dorm before we're locked out.

My best pal is the gal across the hall. She borrows my class notes, uses my books, wears my skirts, and steals my soap. She's a great gal!

Well, Mom, I'll have to close now as it is eleven o'clock, and if our lights aren't out, a little man with a flashlight comes around and puts them out. Don't get the wrong idea, Mom, this is really a great place!! Your loving little girl,

Abigail.

Campus Chatter

It's quite a new fad at T. C., horseback riding. Who's going to show whom who's boss, Chico?

We are glad to report that our "Dream Boy", George Morris, is eating again and that the fellow seems to be doing "fine." Is he, Barb?

What's this we hear about certain sophomore girls who are going to ease up on smoking-only a few puffs a week instead of the usual two cigarettes?

Furloughs come in handy, don't they? Anyway, no complaints from Sadie and Ricky!

If a certain trumpet player doesn't keep quiet, the rest of the Palmer Hall boys are going to transfer to Vassar College-orthe aforementioned person is going to have his room changed to the boiler room.

We hear that the girls on the third floor of Miller Hall moved to Arlington for the Navy Day weekend. Have fun, girls?

For all those poor confused freshman girls who have problems, radio's "Mr. Anthony" is having a special session to solve anything except algebra problems. Make your appointments early!

Our Pilgrim from Plymouth, Norm Gifford, seems to be experiencing some trouble with staying on the local riding horses. What's the matter, Norm? Don't the horses understand you?

What made the senior girl, so conceited she never kept her voice above a whisper, finally get down to earth?

FLASH:

Good sound-proofing devices needed as soon as possible for Miller Hall. We have been informed, just before going to press, that the "Lovers of Fine Music" orchestra, under the direction of Phyl "Spitalny" Conners is starting rehearsals Monday. The orchestra includes such virtuosos as: Okie O'-Connell with her "sweet" clarinet, Betty Wright and her piccolo, "Hot-lips" Mathews and Clark with their trombones, "Pied Piper" Prankunas and her flute, Ruthie Brennan and her mandolin, "Gabriel" Morris and her trumpet, "Lightning Fingers" Wheatley at the piano, and "Beat-it" Carroll at the drums. The vocalist will be the esteemed "Patrice" Bourgeois. After much deliberation the group decided to grant Miss Rosemary Crowell an audition. Lot's of luck, Kids!

One of our entering freshmen this year, Carolyn Seretto, has been confined to her home for almost three weeks because of an infected leg.

Get well fast, Carolyn.

More Chatter

Tony Polito is quite the boy on the dance floor-at least, the girls think so. How about that stuff, Tony?!

Well, folks, it looks like "Nothing Can Beat the Army Air Corps." Ask Loraine!!!

H-, take our advice. Know your animals!

And in the words of Tom Malloy, when he droped a case of type all over the floor: "Don't give up the ship!" "Honesty is the best policy." "Patience is a virtue", and so on into the night.

Are the commuting freshmen afraid of their Big Sisters? Then why don't the younger ones mix

Joe Sylvestro has found an interest in printing besides ink and type characters. Could be J. M.?— Hmmmm—could be!

The Spa holds many surprises-Franta and Hattie know!

RESIDENCE CREDIT COURSES

Dr. Harry F. Percival, just back from the service, has become very active since his return. Besides his regular school duties as psychology teacher, he also carries on offcampus courses which carry residence credit at the College for the degree of bachelor of science in education. He teaches Test and Measurements at the Pittsfield High School every Friday evening. These are survey courses of the standardized tests in the areas of mental ability, scholastic achievement, mechanical and manual aptitudes, occupational interests and personality.

He also gives two other courses at the Springfield Trade School in Springfield every Saturday. One of these courses is Psychology and it is a general survey course of recent theories in this field and places special emphasis upon application of these theories. The other course given in Springfield, is the course on Adolescent Psychology.

Miss Katherine M. McCarthy is also giving a course every Saturday morning at the Massachusetts School of Arts. The course given is the essentials of speaking and will carry two semester hours of residence credit at the Fitchburg State Teachers College.

Dr. Sanders

Our newly appointed president, in giving a broad outline of the proposed curriculum changes, continued, "The courses in general education have been reorganized into seven modern liberal arts consisting of, math and science; language and literature; history; political economy; philosophy and psychology; arts and health and physical education.

"These seven areas will provide every student with as fine a general college education as can be secured any place in the country. Also, the professional curriculum will be more closely integrated so as to limit repetition where it exists and prepare more skillful teachers in a more economical way than the traditional professional curriculum could.

"These plans will be made public as the year progresses and as the faculty works out the necessary details."

The aim of this general education program is to cultivate generally the intellectual powers and the powers for feeling of all students who are to be teachers rather than to give them bundles of specialized information in certain fields.

The seven liberal arts are proposed as basic, and required of all students, whether their professional work will be in the elementary, junior high, or industrial arts fields. Instructors in each block, it is proposed, will work out the content and methods suitable without being hampered by traditional textbooks.

Dr. Sanders pointed out that an important matter will be the time allotted to each area. The whole program will consist of 84 semester hours. This will break down into 64 hours offered the first two years with the remaining 20 hours being completed in the senior year after the student has completed his professional training. The and Thursday from 7 to 9 P. M. Twenty men enrolled at the first meeting, representing Fitchburg, Leominster. Shirley, Gardner, Winchendon, and Athol. The students were divided into two groups, the first group taking English and History from Mr. Daniel J. Healy; the second taking Science and Math. from Mr. David J. Burns. There have been a number of additional applications since the first meeting and it will be necessary to increase the staff of instructors.

This education is completely free of charge to the veterans. The High School principal advises the course of study necessary to receive a diploma from the local High School. Credit is given for work done in the armed forces. On completion of the courses necessary, the regional High School awards the diploma.

MEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETS

At the first meeting of the Men's Athletic Association this year, Steve O'Horo announced that the men have four hundred and some odd dollars for athletics this term. This money must provide equipment for Physical Ed. for all the men of the college. Most of it will be spent during the Basketball season. Coach Elliot suggested that officers be elected to the Athletic Association and they were elected as follows:

Pres Tom	Carney
Treas Steve	O'Horo
Sec Dic	k White

Class representatives also elected to the Association were as follows:

Senior	Stanley	Potts
Junior	Joe Ca	puzzio
Sophomore	. Bob G	audet
Freshman	George .	Ahern

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The Women's Athletic Conference of Massachusetts State Teachers College was held in Framingham on October 26, 27 and 28. The delegates from Fitchburg who accompanied Miss Bolger were "Kit" Bourgeois, President of the W.A.A.; Charlotte Drury, head of Basketball and elected by the W.A.A. Board; and Dot Janda, head of Swimming and elected by the students of the College.

The necessity of buying and holding Victory Bonds is no less imperative now than it was while the guns were blazing. Remember—they finished their job—let's finish ours. Back up the Victory Loan.

ANNUAL W. A. A. ASSEMBLY

The annual W. A. A. assembly was held October 9th. Katherine Bourgeois, president of the association welcomed all new members and read the list of board members for the year 1945-1946. They are: Pres K. Bourgeois, Vice-Pres. C. Farrar, Sec.-Treas. S. O'Connor, Head of Swimming, D. Janda, Head of Hockey C. Emery, Head of Bowling M. J. O'Connor, Head of Basketball C. Drury, Head of Volleyball A. Driscoll, Head of Tennis M. Baruzzi, Head of Modern Dance P. Morley, Head of Hiking J. Clougherty, Head of Softball A. Whitney, Representative K. Morrilley, White Team Capt. H. Peck and Green Team Capt. M. Piermarini.

Shadow pictures of the various sports were shown. Carol Farrar explained the point system whereby girls can earn three very attractive awards, the monogram, the gold pin, and that coveted green sports blazer Evelyn Bourgeault who won all three in her two years here left her duties at Burbank Hospital to come and talk to us about these awards. She read the names of the other award winners. The Green and White team captains took charge of the drawing of the color team members. After all of the girls had drawn and had become a member of either the Green or the White team, the members of the faculty drew. The assembly closed with the singing of team songs and the Alma Mater.

W. A. A. ACTIVITIES

Hockey Practice Begins

Hockey practice began a few weeks ago, with an excellent attendance according to Connie Emery's report. Color games are being arranged as well as interclass competitions.

COMMUNITY CONCERTS

The first of the community concerts took place October 22nd. The number of students from F. T. C. who have subscribed for tickets is double that of last year. Florence Kirk, who made her Metropolitan opera debut last year, presented the concert.

The second will be the Foxhole ballet, on November 26th. This group obtained its name from the fact that it was the first dance troupe organized to play to American troops overseas. They proved to be one of the most popular entertainment units, winning great response from the G. I. audiences.

The Indianapolis symphony to be given January 13th, will be under the direction of Fabian Sevitsky. Then the Trapp Family Singers on February 16th, who will appear in native costumes, and present a program of Schubert. Winding up the program will be Gygorgy Sandor, Hungarian pianist. This final concert will take place on March 11th

Horseback Riding

This year the W. A. A. Board voted to add horseback riding to its list of sports under the direction of Connie Emery. The sport has proved very popular with the students. The stables are located in Lunenburg and riding lessons are given every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and Saturday mornings.

Swimming

Swimming, under the direction of Dot Janda, got an early and a good start this year; a large number of girls reported at the indoor pool at Gardner. Dot plans to go every two weeks on Tuesday or Thursday evening.

Bowling

The Bowling Season will begin Nov. 26 at the Putnam St. Alleys under the direction of Mary Jean O'Connor
